No Major Celebrations Planned

Princess Elizabeth's 21st Birthday To Pass Unobserved in Britain

By Stuart Underhill
LONDON, April 19 (CP)—The 21st birthday of the woman who may one day sit on the British throne will pass virtually unobserved Monday in her homeland despite celebrations in South Africa where she now is touring with her family.

Flags will fly from government buildings to mark the latest milestone in the life of Princess Elizabeth but little else is planned. Arrangements for a gigantic searchlight demonstration and a carnival have been cancelled in keeping with the campaign to save electricity.

The princess has little private life. A typical example is the current curiosity about the prospects of her marrying tall, handsome Philip Mountbatten, former Prince Philip of Greece. Most observers are inclined to think the match is a good guess. But what other young woman in the world would raise

Trial Starts

Germans Deny War Crimes Guilt

NUERNBERG, April 19 (AP)—German Steel Magnate Friedrich Flick and five of his industrial associates pleaded innocent to war crimes charges today after an American prosecutor declared that they shared the blame for German crimes equally with the military.

Flick was accompanied in the prisoners' dock before the four-man court by Otto Steinbrink, Konrad Kaletsch, Bernhard Weiss, Herman Terberger and Otto Burkhardt.

They were accused of boosting the Nazis to power, of financing the S.S. (Elite Guard), of exploiting slave labor, of cheating Jews out of property and of plundering occupied countries.

This, the first war crimes trial of industrialists in history, is admittedly a testing ground.

Germans Seek Helgoland Loot

CUXHAVEN, Germany, April 19 (Reuters)—German fishermen, disregarding orders that no one may go near Helgoland until official inspection parties have declared the shattered island safe, are believed to have secretly landed there during the night in search of buried treasure and loot churned up by yesterday's explosion.

Will Become Effective Here On April 27

Mayor Harry Ainlay Saturday issued a proclamation putting Edmonton on daylight time from midnight, Saturday, April 26 to midnight, Saturday, Sept. 27.

He urged all professional, commercial and business firms, and all citizens voluntarily to observe the proclamation.

The proclamation was issued with the approval of a majority of city council.

It was pointed out by Mayor Ainlay that without the time change Edmonton would be the only city of importance in Canada on standard time.

He said citizens did not like daylight saving when applied to winter months, but have never tried it when used only for the summer period.

The city council presented the question of daylight saving to a plebiscite last November, and it carried. The proclamation simply puts into effect the desire of the majority of the citizens, Mayor Ainlay pointed out.

He said that independent surveys made recently of householders and business bodies resulted in the affirmative support for daylight saving by an even larger percentage majority than the plebiscite.

"Respectful of our private opinions regarding daylight saving, I appeal to all citizens to give it a fair trial for this summer. Let us show civic loyalty by carrying out the terms of the proclamation. If at the end of the term mentioned there is any decided objection, a further plebiscite can be held during the fall elections to determine the policy for the following year," Mayor Ainlay stated.

Oppose Blocs

MOSCOW, April 19 (AP)—Pravda declared today that the Russians, in their proposals for revision of the 1939 British-Soviet pact of alliance, have no desire to separate Britain from the United States or France.

In careful language, however, the paper added that neither side should participate in blocs or agreements directed at the other.

Living Costs Up

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The cost of living in the United States rose two per cent between mid-February and mid-March to a record high of 136 per cent of the 1935-1936 average, the bureau of labor statistics reported today. Food prices advanced 3.9 per cent during the month.

At Meeting Next Week

Three Hot Fights Loom For Redistribution Group

By Chester Bloom
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, April 19 — Three hot fights over redistribution—one in Manitoba, another in Saskatchewan and the third in Ontario—are scheduled for the next meeting of the general redistribution committee in the coming week.

In Manitoba, by the proposed merging of Lisgar and MacDonnell constituencies, one Liberal seat is eliminated, but on the other hand, the proposed merging of Neepawa and Portage La Prairie to create a new seat encircling Winnipeg City, a conservative seat would be cut out, leaving a net decrease of one Manitoba seat as required under the 1947 redistribution.

The Manitoba Progressive Conservatives don't like this much though their loss of Cal Miller's seat in Portage is proposed to be offset by the loss of a Liberal seat and both parties would have an even break in the fight for the new rural seat encircling Winnipeg City. The CCF party think the latter change is aimed against them and are preparing to about "gerrymander" at the top of their voices.

BUT IN ONTARIO, the Progressive Conservatives will raise the loudest outcry since the draft plan provides for the elimination of two seats.

Two seats in the northwestern part of the province are to be eliminated, but on the other hand, the proposed merging of Neepawa and Portage La Prairie to create a new seat encircling Winnipeg City, a conservative seat would be cut out, leaving a net decrease of one Manitoba seat as required under the 1947 redistribution.

He May Scorn Dollar After $10,000,000 Find

BY HAL BOYLE
TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 19 (AP)—The next time Paul Stokes finds a dollar bill on the sidewalk, he may not even stoop to pick it up. Yesterday he found $10,000,000.

Stokes has been putting in 24 hours a day as a rescue worker since Wednesday's disaster. He was probing the ruins of the Texas City terminal railway company when he came across the company safe.

Inside was a mass of papers. Stokes took them to W. H. Sandberg, vice-president of the company.

"Thank God for this," Sandberg said. "This is $7,000,000 in company fire insurance policies."

He gave Stokes the keys to other rooms and asked him to look around again. This time Stokes took a sheet with him. He entered room after ruined room.

When he came back, he had more paper. They were 500 individual policies of workers, and Sandberg said they amounted to more than $3,000,000.

Stokes earlier had helped recover 86 bodies. Six had been in the first floor of the terminal, and Stokes said "there's more there, but we need heavy equipment to get them out."

For Patients Not Receiving Provincial Grant

Plan 70-Cent Rate Increase At Royal Alexandra Hospital

An addition of 70 cents a day will be made to the regular ward rate at the Royal Alexandra Hospital, for all patients to whom the increased provincial government grant does not apply. This was approved at a meeting of the hospital board, held at the hospital Friday evening.

AS OF APRIL 1 the government grant was increased from 45 cents to 70 cents per patient day. In order that the hospitals may qualify for this increased grant, the patients must have lived in the province at least 12 months out of the preceding 24. Dr. A. F. Anderson, hospital superintendent stated at the meeting. A new born baby is considered a resident of the province.

When, and if the civic and school boards adopt daylight saving time, hospitals will follow suit. It was agreed that no serious difficulties would be created in running the hospital if daylight saving time was adopted this year.

ESTIMATES ANNOUNCED at the meeting placed the cash position for the first three months of 1947 at $182,719 or $1,000 more than in 1946. A cash deficit of $24,421 was noted for the three month period. This figure is well within the estimate.

Net revenue for the month of March was $66,454, and $177,294 for three months, this is $7,000 more than last year, but $12,000 under the estimate.

PEORIA, Ill., April 19 (AP)—Paul Robeson, negro singer who was denied use of a Peoria city hall assembly room after his scheduled concert was cancelled, last night limited his appearance to a press conference in the home of a negro labor leader.

WHILE 50 POLICEMEN under orders from the mayor stood guard at the city hall, Robeson told newspaper men that Peoria "goes on record as being taken over by the Fascist element."

Robeson said he had not made a public appearance because "the whole town is under a wave of terror that is unbelievable."

Police said the singer came to Peoria by automobile from Decatur, Ill., where he gave a concert yesterday.

Robeson's concert in a large hall was cancelled and the city council on Tuesday formally disapproved of the appearance of "any speaker or artist who is an avowed or active propagandist for un-American ideology." Aldermen said the resolution was aimed at Robeson.

OTTAWA, April 19 — In an assignment unofficially described as having "important defensive aspects," the RCAF this summer will map some 700,000 square miles of Canada, running about one-fifth of the Dominion's total land surface.

PLANES OF the photographic wing based at the Rockcliffe air station from where the operation will be directed, will map selected areas from Labrador to Vancouver Island, including that immense sprawl of Ontario between Lake Huron and Hudson Bay.

It will be the most ambitious aerial mapping program ever undertaken in Canada, equalling the total area of survey photography completed by the RCAF in the 20 years before the war.

Jewish Reprisals Take Second Life

JERUSALEM, April 19 (AP)—A constable wounded in one of four attacks yesterday on British personnel died in a hospital during the night, raising to two the death toll from the first wave of apparent reprisals by Jewish underground extremists for the hanging Wednesday of four members of Irgun Zvai Leumi.

The constable had been killed by a bomb blast which destroyed an armed car on busy Allenby road in the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv. A second officer was wounded severely. The two officers, firing after their taxi-riding assailants, killed one civilian and wounded two.

Americans Slow Claim Citizenship

TORONTO, April 19 (CP)—Americans who lost their United States citizenship by voting in Canadian elections in the last six years have less than four months to regain it under simple procedure set up by an act of the U.S. Congress.

The U.S. consulate in Toronto said today that next Aug. 7 is the deadline in which such Americans can become U.S. citizens again by appearing before any American diplomatic or consular officer.

A Washington dispatch said today that since the procedure became effective last Aug. 7 for a one-year period only 105 Americans living outside the U.S. took advantage of it. There was no information as to how many lived in Canada. When the bill first became law it was believed "hundreds" in Canada would be involved.

moner. Her only title by right of birth is that of "her royal highness." She cannot even be called her apparent to the throne for no one can have that title except the son of a sovereign or his direct male descendant.

There is some gossip that her 21st birthday might bring her a new title but that is thought unlikely. The recent campaign to have her styled the "Princess of Wales" fizzled out when it was pointed out that that title is reserved for the wife of the king's eldest son.

THE PRINCESS is said to want her own automobile now that she is 21. There also has been speculation the king may give her a country estate where she can rule her own establishment. At present her private quarters consists of a three-room suite in Buckingham Palace.

Although brought up as an outdoor girl, she is at home in the theatre and on the dance floor. A "royal minute" has been composed in honor of her 21st birthday but it was not permitted even to mention her name because of possible commercialism.

In addition to horses, Princess Elizabeth is fond of dogs and, with Princess Margaret, has set the style for London's dog fanciers with Welsh Corgis.

some parts inaccessible. About 35 bodies were removed from the plant. The exact number of dead brought out was difficult to ascertain. Many bodies were in pieces.

Memorial service for the dead was to be conducted today and mass burial will be held some-time next week.

An improvised morgue held 295 bodies, the Red Cross said yesterday with the procession of corpses to places in long, blanket-covered lines proceeding steadily.

A "dead body commission" was appointed by Mayor J. C. Trahan, after he revealed last night that there had been some unauthorized removals of bodies from the city before relatives could identify them.

The mayor did not say how many bodies were thus removed.

The slow process of recovery was made more arduous by the mangled condition of the bodies.

"I've been bringing out the pieces all day," said John A. Rios, a Galveston longshoreman. "I guess they add up to about two people. I only found one whole man and he was burned black. I don't see how anything could be worse than this."

Two Homes Are Entered

Two residents within the same block were visited by thieves on Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Geary 9550 102A avenue, and Emerson (Buck) Eaton 9522 102A avenue were the victims of breaking and entering, according to city police.

Mr. and Mrs. Geary were out for the evening and on their return they found that entrance to their home had been gained by removing a screen. Missing were two suitcases and a quantity of men's and women's clothes.

Mr. Eaton had not locked his door, and was visiting neighbors in the same house in which he was living. On his return he found that his room had been ransacked.

John Andrechew, 10332 101 street, reported that his home had been entered, and although nothing seemed to be missing, considerable damage had been done to its interior. He suspected it was the work of a juvenile.

Police checked, found his suspicions correct, and interviewed the youngster and his parents. The damage will be paid for.

Redistribution

of Muskoka-Ontario, now represented by J. M. Macdonnell, chief lieutenant of John Bracken, P.C. position leader. Mr. Macdonnell has been especially active as the financial critic of the King government.

Ontario gets one new seat under the 1947 redistribution. It is being allotted to Northern Ontario but an additional seat is also being created by slicing portions from Nipissing and Cochrane. This is a logical move to take care of the great expansion of mining population in Northern Ontario. The extra northern seat is being compensated for by moving boundaries to eliminate Muskoka-Ontario in southern Ontario, merging it with neighbor seats.

THE SASKATCHEWAN plan has not yet been made public but it is understood to shift boundaries which will eliminate the federal riding of Lake Centre, now held by John Diefenbaker

Progressive Conservative. The curious fact about this proposed change is that it is expected only to meet token resistance from the majority in control of the Progressive Conservative party in the house.

It is well known that intense jealousy exists between the factions in the party, one of which considers Mr. Bracken's leadership too much milk and water and promotes the fighting activity of Mr. Diefenbaker, the government's most vociferous critic. Since Mr. Bracken's seat in Neepawa, Manitoba, will be somewhat improved by the inclusion of a large part of Portage, the Bracken group are not worrying about what happens to Mr. Diefenbaker.

THE SASKATCHEWAN plan has not yet been made public but it is understood to shift boundaries which will eliminate the federal riding of Lake Centre, now held by John Diefenbaker

Progressive Conservative. The curious fact about this proposed change is that it is expected only to meet token resistance from the majority in control of the Progressive Conservative party in the house.

It is well known that intense jealousy exists between the factions in the party, one of which considers Mr. Bracken's leadership too much milk and water and promotes the fighting activity of Mr. Diefenbaker, the government's most vociferous critic. Since Mr. Bracken's seat in Neepawa, Manitoba, will be somewhat improved by the inclusion of a large part of Portage, the Bracken group are not worrying about what happens to Mr. Diefenbaker.

ity prices to the government when we recommended amendments to the prices support act." George Bickerton, Saskatoon, publicity and research director of the UFC told The Bulletin Saturday. The delegation interpretation of parity prices was as follows:

"Parity prices for agricultural products are those prices necessary to enable agricultural producers to purchase and pay for the goods and services required to maintain a good Canadian standard of living and a high modern level of farm operation."

AMENDMENTS to the act recommended by the joint western group included:

Amendments to the act recommended by the delegation called for creating an agricultural parity prices board under the direction of the minister. The board's job would be to endeavor to ensure "adequate and stable returns for agriculture by promoting orderly adjustment from time to time." It would also be required to establish a parity relationship between returns from agriculture and the producers' costs for goods and services. The fund set up under the act for prices support should not be used in adjusting wheat prices, it was stipulated.

THE DELEGATION included George Wright, Borden, president, and Mr. Bickerton of the UFC. The Alberta Farmers' Union was represented by Carl Stimpfle, Edmonton, president; Henry Young, Millet, vice-president and R. J. Bouillier, Edmonton secretary.

ARRANGE CANCER CAMPAIGN: Edmonton's campaign to raise $25,000 in the city and Northern Alberta will open Monday, and the eagerness of women workers who attended the inaugural meeting Friday at the Talmud Torah Hall, augurs well for the campaign's success. More than 100 women will swing into action Monday to ask Edmontonians to join with the rest of Canada in the fight against the nation's second killer, cancer. Plans for the campaign were outlined by E. F. McGarvey, campaign manager. The meeting was convened by Mrs. Harry Holmes, and a committee headed by Mrs. J. C. Sheremata, organizer of the house to house canvass. Dr. Eardley Allin spoke on the necessity of early diagnosis of cancer, and Mrs. M. Conquest, Canadian Red Cross, also spoke. Mrs. Ernest Manning and Mrs. J. R. Munro, wife of the deputy mayor, were in attendance. Above is a picture of the officers, and conveners of campaign committees. French Cautious Of de Gaulle Plan

By STEWART UNDERHILL

LONDON, April 19 (CP)—British observers are watching with interest affairs across the channel where Gen. Charles De Gaulle has asked the French to support his contention that the present system of government by coalition should be replaced by a strong executive less dependent on party politics.

Reports reaching London indicate the general is receiving the greatest support for his "rally of the French People" in strong Roman Catholic areas. Most Frenchmen, however, appear cautious about joining the movement.

THE CURIOSITY of Britain regarding the next step in the rally shows in a Times of London editorial which said that many Frenchmen "undoubtedly" follow him as far as his views on constitutional reform and communist antipathy are concerned.

"What remains obscure and causes them uneasiness is the method which he intends, is prepared, or may be forced to employ to achieve his end."

"Will De Gaulle be prepared, as his movement claims, merely to exert influence on the government from the outside to achieve his objectives or will he be induced with his known authoritarian temperament, to pursue his end on extra-constitutional lines? If so, he will provoke a reaction in kind."

Negro Seeks Stay Second Execution

NEW ORLEANS, April 19 (AP)

An 18-year-old negro youth who lived through his own electrocution last May 3 asked the state pardon board yesterday to spare him a second trip to the chair while his lawyer offered an affidavit that the executioner was drunk. The United States Supreme court recently refused by a 5-4 decision to intervene in the case after the negro, Willie Francis, sought a commutation of sentence on the grounds that another execution attempt would constitute cruel and unusual punishment. George Etie, one witness to the abortive electrocution almost a year ago was quoted in an affidavit from Louis M. Cyr, former judge, that the executioner was drunk and the scene was "a disgraceful and inhumane exhibition."

No Greek Aid Supervision

UN Vote Defeats Soviet Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 19.—(AP)—The Security Council last night defeated Russia's effort to place United States aid to Greece under United Nations supervision.

THE PROPOSAL was supported only by Russia and Poland. Colombia, Belgium, Britain and Australia voted against it. The United States, China, France, Syria and Brazil abstained.

Seven affirmative votes were needed for approval. It was the first UN test ballot on President Truman's $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program.

The council earlier had approved a United States proposal to maintain a UN border watch in northern Greece. That vote was 9 to 0, with Russia and Poland abstaining.

NEAR THE END of the morning session Colombia offered a new suggestion for handling all the Balkan problems in a single package. Under the Colombia plan, the United States, Britain, France and Russia first would examine jointly the possibility of a Balkan agreement in order to settle all pending questions likely to endanger security and friendly relations among Albania, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Greece. Three smaller powers then would be added to the group to comprise the permanent committee.

The committee also would "co-operate with the competent authorities or agencies appointed by the government of the United States to handle its aid to Greece."

Steelmen to Talk Peace or Strife

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—(AP)

Top-ranking strategists of the CIO's $50,000 member United Steelworkers Union gathered today for important week-end sessions expected to go a long way toward determining whether peace or strife will rule in American steel industry.

The union's powerful executive board meets today and tomorrow, with its decisions slated to come before the 175-man wage and policy committee Monday for approval. Prime subject will be contract negotiations now underway between the union and the United States Steel Corporation, the country's top producer. The union has not disclosed its wage demands.

Possible results of current union sessions could be a wage settlement, a new contract extension, or strike call after April 30, expiration date of the present pact between the union and five major big steel subsidiaries.

Edmonton's Mud

In one too noticeable feature no other city in North America can rival Edmonton. That feature is mud.

During the past period of melting snow and itinerant rainfall, the streets of this city have been in a condition that can be described in no other term than disgraceful. Many of these highways have been practically impassable. In some cases, automobiles have sunk in mire almost to their hub caps.

And these mud-laden streets are not all in the outskirts of the city. Many of them are situated in some of the highest-taxed residential areas of the community.

This situation is intolerable from the standpoint of transportation. It is more than intolerable from the standpoint of the housewife and the businessman, whose premises deteriorate by the mud tracked into them.

Even when the weather dries and the mud is translated into dry earth, the dust continues to take a toll of property. Mud and dust probably cost Edmonton householders and Edmonton business firms, in the depreciation of their furniture and fittings, several hundreds of thousands of dollars every year.

In ten years the loss through preventable mud and dust amounts to many times the sum it would require to pave many miles of streets and lanes.

The paving program of this city cannot proceed with too much haste.

Tax-Dodging Spreads

The members of parliament set a contagious precedent when they raised their indemnities last year $2,000 each and decided they wouldn't pay any income taxes on the money. The lead was too attractive to be ignored by provincial legislators. Members of the Saskatchewan legislature want $650 of their seasonal allowances exempted from income taxation, and members of the Manitoba legislature are asking for the same favor.

There was practically no expressed objection from the public to the increase of the indemnities of the members of parliament. There was general and strong objection to their action in using their legislative powers to dodge paying income taxes on the increased income.

The justice of this objection is shown by the demands now coming from provincial legislators for like treatment. The prospect is that members of all legislatures will eventually claim, and get, similar immunity. They can all argue that they are as much entitled to exemption as the members of parliament, and the latter can hardly refuse to do for them what they did for themselves.

This law-maker class immunity does not look good to the private citizen who has to pay on every dollar he gets of net income over the fixed general exemption level. The spectacle does nothing to popularize income taxation, and nothing to convince the taxpayer that his representatives deal fairly with him.

If members of the legislatures need more money than they are getting they should raise their allowances in an open and above-board way. That the members of parliament set them a bad example by dodging income taxation is not a sound or even defensible reason why they should duplicate the offence.

The Position Is Clear

The Moscow conference is to end next week. That is the inference from a statement given out at the foreign office in London that Mr. Bevin and his advisers will leave for home on Tuesday or Wednesday.

If the conference reached agreement on any item of crucial importance the world has yet to learn what it is. Maybe they will surprise everyone by finding some common ground for action in the few remaining days, but that seems altogether unlikely.

There will be disappointment everywhere, of course, that no progress toward a settlement of any major issue has been made. But the disappointment need not, and should not, breed a fatalistic conclusion that settlements of any or all disputed points are hopeless.

This is not the first international conference that has broken down. Neither of the two world wars which have cursed this generation came about as the result of such a breakdown. The nations won't start fighting because the Moscow gathering got into a deadlock. There is nothing in that to fight about.

It is better that the conference should fail than that it should report a pretended harmony achieved by appeasement and the making of tongue-in-cheek concessions. At least the Big Four have been candid in stating where they differ. The world therefore knows where they are "at"—and from what basis further negotiations will have to proceed.

After Easter

The time that elapsed between Easter and Ascension Day, that is, between the Resurrection and the return to Heaven of our Lord, is one of the least known periods in the divine history of Jesus Christ.

Of the four Gospels, those which do not stop short with the record of Easter give very sketchy accounts of the forty days that followed. In one of two instances there is some reason to believe that the post-Resurrection stories may have been added by others than the original writers.

There is, of course, more than one reason for this lack. The disciples who regrouped themselves about the Risen Lord were desperately in fear of authority. They did not see Jesus continually, but only at intervals. Therefore, this period must have been to them a time of extreme confusion and fear and uncertainty.

What really happened, then, during the forty days which elapsed between Christ's Resurrection and His Ascension?

It is believed by the most profound ecclesiastical scholars that Christ, knowing His time on earth to be short, employed it in giving minute instructions to His followers about their ministry in the years to come. It is probable that they did not understand a good deal of this instruction until the day of Pentecost made it abundantly clear.

But it is certain from the writings of St. Paul that something like this happened, that the interval between Easter and Ascension was occupied with the detailed formulation of the establishment of Christ's Church.

This is one of the most interesting of all the periods in divine history and one that merits the closest study.

Thirty years ago the Edmonton Automobile Association staged a parade of illuminated motor cars. Since then we have been not infrequently troubled with lit-up drivers.

The "trial" of Rev. Perry F. Rockwood, the Truro Presbyterian minister, at least enriched the English language by two more words, "divisive" and "descension."

Drinking is now blamed for falling hair. Could be, but the way we've seen some people gulp it down the hatch is enough to make anyone's hair stand on end.

BRIDGE

Cathedral Mountain Still

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

Radium Hot Springs—The roads between this place and Banff are still impassable, the snow is many feet deep in the cuts.

It is on the blocked road that one gets the best view of Mount Elsenhower. But I find that the old settlers hereabouts all still call Mount Elbe by its original name—Cathedral Mountain.

It is not that they mean any disrespect for the genial General Elbe, for here, as everywhere else in Canada, General Elsenhower is still the most liked of all Allied generals who became famous in the war. But the old pioneers thought it was a sort of sacrilege to change the name of so hallowed a place, even for the great Elsenhower.

BOTH WINSTON Churchill and the Canadian Manufacturer's Association are due in Banff around June 3. That hardly looks like a coincidence.

Unless all signs fail the Canadian manufacturer is soon going to revert to type, soon going to begin once again to talk about the "menace" of cheap imports from the United States.

Our Canadian manufacturer is no different from the United States or British manufacturer, he doesn't like competition. The more the foreign competition cuts into his own markets the less he likes it.

MR. CHURCHILL has never had any inhibitions about crashing the gates of Canadian party politics. He was eager to come to Canada in 1911 to campaign for the Canadian Conservatives against the Canadian Liberals. But that was not on the main issue of Reciprocity with the United States, which the Liberals favored. It was the Navy.

Churchill was then strongly in favor of the plan whereby Canada would have contributed financially to the upkeep of the British Navy, rather than to build one of her own.

HERE IS THE FINAL proof that this world is out of joint. In the real he-man country, where there is a ranch almost everywhere you look, you can't buy a pair of denim cowboy pants for love or money.

The stores just don't have them. Yet only a few weeks ago when I was down in the States on a speaking tour, almost every gal I met at the swank colleges was wearing these same cowboy denim pants.

Of course we make plenty of denim cowboy pants in Canada. For instance, in Edmonton there is a good sized factory which makes these pants. But last time I read of that particular factory it was busy making this kind of clothing all right but all for export to Holland!

I FANCY the real key to the missing pants is that the price control system is dying a slow death here in Canada, while there is no price ceiling on exported pants.

The moral seems to be—if you are going to take them off—take them off and be done with it. I mean the ceilings, not the cowboy pants.

THERE IS ALSO an acute shortage of wire nails in these parts. Paint is also hard to get.

But here is a modern touch. The ex-RCAP grandson of the old-time Columbia River steamboat skipper, now has his own plane and does an increasingly air taxi business.

HERE IN THE HOT, radioactive pool, which literally bubbles out of the Rocky Mountains, people often stay in the water for three or four hours at a stretch.

Of course the more frost in the air above the pool the easier it is to take the heat within it.

They have had a medical student staying here; happened to be a Canadian citizen of Japanese ancestry. He smiles at the talk of radio activity in the water. It's the heat that helps the human body, he declares. He points out that for centuries the Japanese have been almost literally boiling themselves in hot pools much like this one here. Where they can't get one stoked up free by nature, they heat it up themselves.

The Question of Authority

BY FRANK B. WALKER

If the legitimate state cannot exercise full authority, the result is anarchy. The rebellion continues, with intermittent truces; the state, failing decisively to win the conflict, advocates its powers to counter-vigilantes; the struggle then becomes one between two lawless bodies; and in the end, the choice is between two sets of usurpers.

NO GOVERNMENT, however well-meaning, can establish a sound economy or greatly improve social conditions in the midst of a civil war. The war augments misery which, in turn, feeds the forces of rebellion. First the state must demonstrate its authority, utterly quell the rebellion, dissolve its organizations, and punish its leaders. Then, and then only, can it afford to be generous to the rank and file of rebel followers; and then, and then only, can it establish a liberal social order. There is an order of priority. It is quite out of the question for any state to be generous with armed enemies or to negotiate with them until the question of authority is absolutely settled.

Without current first-hand knowledge of the Greek situation, and confused by highly conflicting reports, it is nevertheless possible to reduce the question to some basic principles of politics.

And unless we recognize principles and back them unequivocally, what we shall be promoting in the world will not be democracy but anarchy, with what inevitably follows anarchy—dictatorship of right or left.

Mr. Bevan's housing programme was published a few days ago. It is hoped to complete 240,000 permanent houses this year, compared with 80,000 last year. In 1946 an average of 7,000 permanent houses were completed each month and to reach the new goal will mean raising this to 20,000.

Mr. Bevan hopes to do this by increasing the number employed on permanent houses from an average of 200,000 last year to an average of 300,000 this year. He ended 1946 with 253,000 permanent houses under construction; he plans to end 1947 with 200,000.

One of the difficulties in 1946 was that, to get the program started, the labor force was spread thinly over a large number of projects. This year it will be concentrated on permanent housing. The ratio of four houses under construction by local authorities to one by private enterprise is being continued.

STEADY PROGRESS is being made in the reform of Britain's prisons. Drab Holloway jail, the women's prison, is introducing the feminine touch. Prisoners have been allowed the use of cosmetics for over a year now and beginning last month they have been permitted daily newspapers. They will also receive new clothing in the near future.

Cells are being improved. Certain categories of prisoners are allowed photographs and flowers. Evening activities are being provided. Doctor Charity Taylor, the first woman Governor of Holloway, has described her job as "to help them to want to live a normal decent life and to be nicer people by the time they leave."

Askham Grange, the new prison for women near York, is another experiment in a prison without bars. It is a country house and the prisoners are given special training in house-craft, cookery and similar subjects. Improved medical and psychiatric services are also being provided in an effort to root out the cause of crime.

Dangers of Apathy

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

A lot of people are losing a lot of sleep these days wondering what to do about the Communist "menace." In this country, as in the United States, one often hears the suggestion that the party should be outlawed and that members of the party should be hedged in with restrictions of various kinds. My personal opinion is that nothing more than an opportunity to make martyrs out of themselves, as such action would permit them to do.

There is something about discrimination of this kind which is repulsive to most people. After all, if we believe in freedom of speech then we must accord that right to all groups within our community, and if any individual abuses that privilege to the point where he breaks any one of our numerous laws then the proper procedure is to charge him and place him before the courts for trial and judgment. But mass discrimination such as the outlawing of a party always begets an unnecessary amount of sympathy for the objects of such action.

THE THING most people hold against the Communists is their ability to worm their way into positions of responsibility in organizations of various kinds, in legitimate organizations and in illegitimate ones which are respected by all, and then using those organizations as a "front" for subversive activity. Outlawing them won't stop them from doing this. For they will naturally deny that they are communists and it will probably be most difficult to prove that they are. And accusing them, charging them, and subjecting them to public trial will only make martyrs of them and gain public sympathy.

The thing to do in my opinion is to accord them full freedom and bring them out in the open and watch them and see what they are doing. Then when we think they are trying to form and control a "front" to pitch right in, form a cell around them, and either prevent them from getting control or take it away from them by legitimate, democratic means. In other words let those of us who don't believe in communism work as hard for whatever we believe in as the communists do for what he believes. This is the democratic way of handling this situation, and the only satisfactory way.

THE TROUBLE is that too often as soon as the communists move in everybody else moves out leaving them a clear field. Thus, although we may catch up with them eventually, they have been able to raise Cain before we can neutralize their efforts.

It, on the other hand, the moment we move in too we could prevent them from achieving any of their purposes. We are more numerous than they, the freedom and democracy we believe in are more acceptable to most than the philosophy the communists are trying to put across. We have nothing to fear but our own apathy and laziness.

Instead of correcting the mistake in the program, I wanted the impression that I was only then withdrawing from the contest.

Possibly I should not have attempted to interrupt as I did, and had I not, the mistake would have passed with little notice, but on the other hand if the mistake were not corrected immediately, I would be placed in the embarrassing position of being awarded a prize I was not entitled to receive at all, which would not only be very awkward for me but unfair to the contestant who should have received the award.

That was the quandary in which I found myself, and with only a moment in time to decide what to do.

Thus, while I deeply regret that I should have in any way marred this contest, I hope that this explanation of what happened will enable you to understand that what transpired was quite unintentional.

I should also like to be permitted to congratulate Doreen Stanton on her remarkable performance, and the other winners for the success which they each achieved, and may I add the hope that Birk's will continue to be so generous in bringing needed assistance to deserving musical talent.

The percentage of mumbling members in the House of Commons is high. They have a tendency to conduct private conversations with each other across the floor. Waitress, Aged 68, Calm After Windfall

WINNIPEG, April 19 (CP)—A 68-year-old waitress who has been serving other people since she was 14, has been willed $240,000 by a Minneapolis bachelor, Thomas B. Campbell, 77, who once owned the old Mariaggi hotel here—and the first thing the waitress, Margaret Laxdal, will do is to "get a roof over my head."

"MY FORTUNE has always been down and out," she said Friday. "I was surprised when I heard of the will. I had no idea he (Campbell) had so much money."

Miss Laxdal feels the fortune will be considerably reduced by litigation. Mr. Campbell left his entire estate to her, terming her his "true friend Maggie Laxdal."

Thursday, probate Judge James J. Kehoe at Minneapolis upheld the will, which Mr. Campbell's relatives contested. The judge ruled the will, made in Canada, is subject to Manitoba laws which provide a will needs no witnesses if written entirely by hand.

Miss Laxdal met Mr. Campbell in the early 1900's, while she was head waitress of the Mariaggi hotel.

"THERE WAS none finer than I," she said. While he owned the hotel he was also a salesman, his travels taking him from Alaska to Florida, and Miss Laxdal saw him only between trips.

"I won't spend the money foolishly," she said. "I'm going to use it for a good cause and that's all I'm going to say. First I'm going to get a roof over my head."

She is now living with friends in Winnipeg.

Born in Iceland, she came to North Dakota at the age of eight with her parents, and moved to Winnipeg when 19.

"I STARTED working a year after I left Iceland," she recalled. "I looked after the house and the other kids. I started working in a hotel when I was 14." After the Mariaggi closed, she continued working as a waitress for 27 years. Now she caters for private parties.

Good News, Men: Plan Mink Shirts

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—Almost any time now the man of the house will be able to go on a shopping binge and bring home a mink shirt for himself.

Moreover, it won't cost nearly as much as the mink coat his wife has coveted for so long.

Joseph Francis, executive secretary of the United States board of fur farmer organizations, told an agricultural subcommittee of the House of Representatives about the mink shirt Friday, but didn't go into any details.

May Study Change For Indian Act

OTTAWA, April 19 (CP)—Mines Minister Glen suggested in the Commons yesterday that the joint Senate-Commons committee now studying the Indian Act might consider an amendment to take care of cases such as that in which the British war bride of an Indian veteran was convicted of having liquor in her possession under that act.

Mr. Glen said the woman came under the Act when she was married and, with the same status as her husband, was guilty under its clause which prohibits possession of liquor. The presiding magistrate had had no alternative other than to impose a fine and he had imposed the minimum levy.

driver, John Parks, admitted he had sold the 48,000 pounds of sugar for 14 cents a pound. No formal charge has been placed against him.

India's food production plan for the five years 1947-52 provides for an increase of 4,000,000 tons of food grains a year by the end of that period.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Lacombe Sidewalks Program Discussed

LACOMBE, April 19 — A total of $3,000 has been allowed for new sidewalks this year, and a number of petitions from ratepayers requesting sidewalks under the local improvement plan have already been received. Town councillors discussed the proposed new sidewalk program at great length at the regular council meeting held early this week.

GEORGE THOMPSON, Innisfail, was given the contract to build the concrete sidewalks at a cost of 34 cents per square foot. It was decided at the meeting, Mr. Thompson assured the councillors that he would supply his own cement in carrying out the contract.

All sidewalks, excepting the two proposed in the business section, will be built under the local improvement plan whereby ratepayers pay two-thirds of the costs and the town pays one third. Payment for these sidewalks will be made by the imposition of a frontage tax.

PLANS HAVE BEEN made for the erection of a new Anglican church in Lacombe. Approval of the purchase of a new lot was given by the town council and the way is now open for the Church to carry on with its plans.

It is not known when the actual building will commence, but plans call for the erection of a new church and rectory and the conversion of the present church into a parish hall.

Invade Consulate As Hanging Protest

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—Forty young men and women invaded the British consulate yesterday, ranged themselves on desks and on the floor, and held a memorial meeting in protest over the executions of Dov Gruner and three other members of Jewish resistance in Palestine. Sir Francis Evans, consul general, said he asked them to leave. When they persisted in delivering speeches to one another denouncing British policy in Palestine and offering prayers in Hebrew, he summoned police. The group later departed peacefully, melting into a crowd of several thousand which gathered outside.

Drew Libel Appeal Hearing Next Week

TORONTO, April 19 (CP)—The Ontario Court of Appeal has listed for next Thursday and Friday hearing of appeal by Premier Drew of Ontario against decision of special assize court jury which dismissed his libel action against the Toronto Daily Star. The suit arose from editorials published by the Star during the Ontario election campaign of June, 1945. Also listed for hearing was the appeal of the Crown against acquittal of Mrs. Evelyn Dick at her second trial for murder in the torso-slaying of her husband John Dick. The second trial had been ordered after Mrs. Dick won appeal against conviction at her first trial.

Dumps His Rubble On City Hall Steps

BRISTOL, England, April 19 (Reuters)—Citizen W. Police Demotions Are Ruled Legal

VANCOUVER, April 19 (CP)—A three-man arbitration board last night ruled that the police commission acted within its legal powers in demoting and suspending 16 members of the Vancouver police force early in January.

The board released its findings in an eight-page report in which it "unanimously concluded that upon a strict application of the accepted legal rules of interpretation there has been no breach of the agreement by the board of police commissioners."

Since the shakeup of the force—touched off by Mayor G. G. MeGeer following charges of neglect of duty against members of the force's three vice squads—the police federal labor union had maintained an agreement signed with the commission June 1, 1946, was violated.

However, the board rapped the commissioners for permitting for 18 years the existence and use of an "ambiguous" instruction booklet for police officers.

Operation Bases Pain of Cancer

BALTIMORE, April 19 (AP)—Through brain surgery performed at Johns Hopkins Hospital, four patients suffering from cancer have been relieved of intractable pain and nervousness in face of death within the last six months, hospital officials disclosed last night.

The operation—prefrontal lobotomy—has been used for years in the treatment of certain mental disorders. Dr. Frank Otensack, visiting surgeon at Johns Hopkins who operated on the cancer patients, said each of them had become addicted to drugs but that "they remained greatly disturbed by pain in spite of heavy doses of narcotics."

He said "so far as pain was concerned, the operations were successful, although they had no bearing upon the life expectancy of patients."

CUXHAVEN, Germany, April 19 (BUP)—British naval observers landed today on Heigland and reported that the demolition of the island fortress was "complete."

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Butterflies and God

In a world where science sits on a pedestal, it is not uncommon for scholarly men to admit they know nothing about religion. A certain lecturer was discoursing learnedly on butterflies when some one interrupted to ask about man's place in the scheme of things. His answer was terrifying in its absurdity: "That is a religious question, and I have no time for such questions."

Scientists are clever and gifted men. But when a man gives his life to discovering all there is to know about butterflies and takes no interest in man—the master of all creation and possessor, besides, of a soul made in the image of God—he can hardly be called sane. Nevertheless, he represents a type that is all too common in the modern world.

Religion is itself a science. It has for its subject the relation between God and man, which is certainly a far more profound theme than the study of butterflies. Yet many will listen to a professor talking about an insect created by God only to turn a deaf ear when anyone starts to talk about the Creator Himself and His designs for man.

When we talk or think about God, we talk and think about ourselves. Thus, whether we profess to be interested or not, religion is actually the one subject in which we are inescapably involved. Why were we born? What is to become of us when death overtakes us? No questions are more important. And where are the answers to be found except in religion?

There will always be man, learned and stupid alike, who will say they have no time for religion. But for all their indifference—or bravado—they cannot disassociate themselves from it. Man wants peace and security. He craves to be loved. He yearns for the assurance of immortality. He knows there is nothing on earth that can bring him ultimate contentment. That is why he turns to religion. It is the only means by which he can get to know God, and obtain through Him, the happiness he was created to enjoy.

GEMS FROM SWEDENBORG:
 "Man is such as his affection and thought are, or such as his love and faith are. All external acts derive their life from affection and thought, for to act is to will, and to speak is to think, since every one acts from will and speaks from thought. Therefore by the statements in the Word that man will be judged according to his deeds, and that he will be rewarded according to his works, it is meant that he will be judged and rewarded according to his thought and affection, from which are his deeds, or which are in his deeds; for deeds are altogether such as are the thought and affection, and are of no account without them."
 —Heaven and Hell
 Swedenborg's writings are available in every public library. Out-of-town readers may get copies from University Extension Library. For information Phone 25052.

"Free Vote" Suggested

Parliament to Decide Prices Board Status

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, April 19 — (CP)— Justice Minister Isley told the Commons yesterday that the government was ready to leave it up to members to decide whether Parliament or the cabinet should have the power to disband the prices board.

HE SUGGESTED a "free vote" on an amendment that would give Parliament the right to say when the board should be discontinued. In a free vote members can vote any way they like regardless of party lines or party policies.

Mr. Isley said the government would be guided by the statements of the majority. The amendment he referred to was advanced earlier in the week by Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre). He said he could not accept the amendment as worded, but he offered a rewording for the consideration of the house.

He explained the amendment would not prevent the government from removing ceilings or cancelling orders... its main effect would be to keep the framework of the prices board in existence at least until the next session.

MR. ISLEY SPOKE while the house continued clause-by-clause study of the main control bill which contains 57 wartime orders-in-council being extended for one year. Eleven of the orders have been accepted and passed.

Mr. Isley and members accepted a revised wording of an amendment that would make prices board officials subject to court action. The original amendment was moved by E. D. Fulton (PC-Kamloops).

Mr. Fulton said the individual should have the power to take action against any prices board official who abused his powers.

MR. ISLEY said he had inquired and found no evidence of any abuse of the section which protected officials against court action.

Removal of the section could be extremely serious. For instance, a court might grant an injunction restraining officials of the board from exercising their duties for four or five days.

Coast Tax Rate Hits New Peak

VANCOUVER, April 18 — (CP)— In special session yesterday, the city council approved a record budget of $19,554,297. It calls for a tax boost of 1.50 mills gross or 1.44 net, bringing the gross rate to 36 mills, highest in history, and a 10 per cent jump in home owner's water rates. The increases will affect 100,000 tax paying citizens, increasing their payments by $1,000,000 this year.

See Unification Lutheran Church

WINNIPEG, April 19 — (CP)— Unification of all bodies of the Lutheran Church in Canada within a year or two was forecast yesterday by church officials from Canada and the United States at the conclusion of a two-day conference.

ference. Rev. Marse Dale of Saskatoon said that a provisional constitution for a unified church, drawn up at the meeting, would be studied at a later session.

SPEED'S HIS GOAL

Gene May, veteran Los Angeles pilot, holds a model of Douglas "Skystreak", in which he will try to approach the speed of sound in tests at Muroc Dry Lake, Calif. He wears special equipment to protect him against shock of driving the Navy's supersonic jet plane at 800 m.p.h. and over.

FRUIT AND NUT BARS

3/4 cup pastry flour	1/4 tsp. ground cloves	2 Brookfield Eggs
1/2 tsp. baking soda	1/2 tsp. nutmeg	1 cup chopped nuts
1/2 tsp. salt	1/2 cup Jewel Shortening	1 cup chopped raisins
1/2 tsp. cinnamon	1/2 cup molasses

Sift together 5 times flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg. Cream Jewel Shortening (you'll find that Blended Jewel creams extra quickly, easily!) Blend in molasses, add eggs, beaten till well mixed. Add sifted dry ingredients. Stir in nuts and raisins. Turn into 8" x 8" pan which has been Jewelled and floured. Bake in 375° oven about 35 minutes. Leave in pan till cold; cut into 6 strips, then cut each strip into 4. This recipe gives you about 2 dozen delicious bars—they keep well and are real favourites with the youngsters!

"When you bake with Blended Jewel Shortening, you know you're using the shortening that's perfectly digestible! There's extra nutritional value in Jewel too! Now, with a world fat shortage, there's not always enough Jewel to go around. But, when you're lucky enough to find it, you can be sure it's as fine and pure as always."

Drew Criticizes Broadcast Set-Up

TORONTO, April 19 — (CP)— Premier Drew of Ontario last night declared that "until we have free competitive commercial (radio) networks in Canada our artists cannot hope for comparable returns" with those in the United States. Addressing the Radio Arts dinner, he said: "To extending my wishes for your future success I would be much less than frank if I did not say that all Canadian radio artists are entitled to particular commendation because of the unique handicap under which you carry on your very important work."

Hints on Planting Roses

Examine roots before planting. Cut back
long straggling ones,
or any that are bruised.
A long tap-root should also be pruned back.

When planting, see that the union where the rose was budded on the stock, is about 1 to 2 inches below the surface of the soil.

Use a sharp knife for pruning, making a clean cut from below upwards. Cut to an
"eye" facing outwards
from centre of plant.

When pruning, cut down to an "eye" or leaf (every leaf has an "eye") not just below
it, as the stem dies
back to an "eye."

Directions for Growing Roses in Edmonton

By WALTER P. WILSON
It has been conclusively proven over the past 15 years that our soil and climatic conditions are perfect for the growing of the most exquisite rose blooms providing the bushes are strong and healthy and are given reasonable care and attention.

Here are some suggestions from Mr. Walter P. Wilson on the care of Roses grown in Northern Alberta, taken from the Rose Show Booklet, now available to all rose growers.

Watering—Should the spring or summer prove dry, it is necessary to water, and all newly planted bushes should be saturated weekly, not overhead, but around the main stem, preferably in the morning. Never wet the foliage in late evening.

Suckering—It will have been noticed by growers of Pike's Rose Bushes that the briar upon which they are budded throws very few suckers. However, all briar roots will sucker at times, and it is very important to get rid of these sucker or briar growth as speedily as possible. In cutting off the sucker growth do so close to the junction of the root, if allowed to grow it weakens the growth of the true plant. If the sucker growth is not cut off close to the root it will likely throw up a double sucker growth.

Pruning—All bedding roses require to be hard pruned the first spring after planting, cutting them back to two or in case of the stronger varieties, three eyes from the base. Make a point of pruning to an eye pointing outwards,
thus leaving room for expansion.
In subsequent years cut out all weak growth and cut down to four or five eyes. Do not prune in the fall, April is the time to prune.

When exhibition blooms are required it is advisable to cut back the bushes more severely which will encourage stronger growth.

A good rule to follow when pruning is the weaker the bush the more it should be pruned and the stronger the bush the less pruning is necessary.

Cutting Blooms—This is as important as pruning and the stems of all blooms should be cut down to within three or four buds or leaves of the stem from which it is growing. In this way it leaves less buds for that particular stem to develop before producing another bloom. In other words by cutting your blooms on a long stem you will secure another crop of good blooms earlier.

Cutting Blooms for Exhibition—All exhibition blooms necessarily have to be cut on fairly long stems to have any chance in competition.
We have, however, been asked when and at what time to cut blooms for exhibition. Much depends on whether the bloom is too late for the show date or too far advanced. If you consider blooms are needed for showing which are rather late in bud, it is advisable to cut them three or four days before the date of show and insert them in water practically up to the head and keep in a fairly warm atmosphere. This will generally advance the bloom.

In cases where the bud is likely to be too early or is becoming too far advanced for the day of show
—we have known exhibitors to cut their buds a week ahead, wrap them in wax paper (that is the bud) and place the stems in cold water and keep in a cool place, and in a week's time the blooms are invariably perfect for exhibition. To be assured of the best exhibition, blooms the buds should be cut a couple of days before the show—in the morning, not evening—placed in cold water and kept in cool place, when they will be in perfect shape for the Show Bench. Of course this does not apply to all varieties, as some rose blooms do not have so many petals as others, but as a general rule exhibition varieties have a large number of petals and the above handling will apply.

General Care of Rose Bushes
During the Growing Season—To be assured of complete success follow our instructions on watering, manuring and pruning. We should mention, however, that after planting, some bushes get nicely started, show leaves and then in the course of a week or so the whole bush gradually dies back. This is generally caused by the bush not being firmly packed with soil around the roots. This trouble is particularly noticed in years when strong winds occur soon after rose bushes are planted. While the bushes may have been properly planted (the roots having been tramped and packed with earth), the strong winds gradually loosen the bushes in the soil.

We would recommend a good tramp around all the bushes, say every two or three weeks, after planting until well established.
Of course, leaving the top two inches of soil loose.

Vegetable Garden Is Weapon Against High Living Cost

You Save Money, the Family Eats Better, You Have Fun

The war is two years over—but you still need a Victory Garden. This garden will be your ally in the present war against the high cost of living. It is estimated that an intelligently worked backyard vegetable garden can save the average family from $70 to over $100 a year. At the same time, it will provide over 300 pounds more vegetables than are bought by non-gardening families. The amount of fresh, canned and dried vegetables bought by the average family can be homegrown with less than six hours a week devoted to planting, cultivation and harvesting.

In addition, home-grown vegetables come to your table garden-fresh. Those that lie around in markets cannot compare in delicious taste with those you grow, because vegetables lose much of their flavor a few hours after picking. And, of course, there's the less materialistic, but deeply satisfying, pride of achievement your creative effort brings.

Because sunlight moves from east to west, it is best to plant rows on a north-and-south line. Then as the light travels on, both sides of your plants will get the benefit. Tall vegetables, such as corn and pole beans, should be spotted on the north side of your garden.

REPLANT AFTER HARVEST

The most efficient gardener gets a continuous and diversified harvest from his limited growing space. This can be done by "succession" cropping, which consists of replanting the same vegetables at intervals of a week to 10 days so that a succession of crops may be harvested right up to frost time. A second succession crop method is to have a crop of one vegetable follow that of a different one in the same season. For example, cabbage or corn may be planted in spaces from which lettuce and radishes have been harvested.

Another "speed-up" stunt for home gardeners is "companion" cropping. In this, quick-growing crops, like beets, lettuce, kale or spinach may be planted between rows of crops which occupy the ground during the entire season. These early-maturing crops can be harvested before the slow-growing ones need the whole space.

This plan is suggested as an excellent vegetable garden for a family of four, producing sufficient vegetables and a surplus of tomatoes for canning. An important thing is to plant fast-growing vegetables as soon as early-maturing crops are harvested. Suggested succession plantings are indicated in parentheses. Preferably, this garden should face east.

Lawns Need Tested Seed

It is not too early to be thinking about renovating old lawns or Early Start Will Give Young Grass Best Chance. Seeding down new ones, as early as possible, gives the young grass a chance to establish itself before warm weather comes. Here are some helpful hints.

Renovating the old lawn: Rake thoroughly, using a steel rake to remove all dead matter from the surface, so that the seed will have a proper seed bed in which to germinate. A top dressing of good loam or peat moss and a standard lawn fertilizer, using two to three pounds per hundred square feet, are also beneficial at this time.

Seeding the new lawn: Prepare the seed bed by breaking up the clods, remove by raking all stones, weed roots and other debris, then roll, rake and tread the ground until the surface becomes quite firm, true and fine and when walked on will hardly show the imprint of the foot.

Sow the seed as evenly as possible, using one pound to 100 square feet. Cover the seed to a depth not exceeding one-quarter of an inch.

Whether renovating old or seeding new lawns it is of the utmost importance to use grasses which have been tested and selected in laboratories and trial grounds of reputable seed houses from for-

Youth Federation Said Communist

MONTREAL, April 19.—(CP)—The World Federation of Democratic Youth, sponsoring a world youth festival at Prague, Czechoslovakia, this summer, was described Friday in a statement issued on behalf of 18 Quebec youth organizations as "a Communist organization whose aim is to enlist world youth into an association harmless enough on the surface but directed in fact by Moscow."

THE STATEMENT, released by Robert Letendre, secretary of the provincial committee of the Canadian Youth Commission, said that the 18 youth groups had reached their decision "as a result of a careful investigation depending on two years of observation." Letendre said the 18 groups represented 100,000 members in Quebec province.

The statement recalled that the world federation had been born as a sequel to a world convention of youth in London late in 1945 at which Quebec had three representatives. Out of 445 delegates, 260 were said to have been Communists.

Princess Given $6,000 Diamond

KIMBERLEY, South Africa, April 19.—(Reuters)—Princess Elizabeth yesterday exclaimed "what a wonderful present, I am delighted," when a three-year-old girl presented her with a case containing a brilliant pure blue-white diamond stone valued at $1,500 ($6,000).

The child was Mary Oppenheimer, granddaughter of Sir Ernest Oppenheimer, the diamond magnate.

Mary gave Princess Margaret another blue-white 4½-carat stone, an emerald-cut diamond, valued at $1,000.

Meanwhile it was disclosed that Princess Elizabeth's 21st birthday gift Monday from the Union of South Africa will consist of 87 diamonds, suitable for setting as a necklace.

The centre stone is 955 carats, and the 21 major stones—one for each year of her life—total 731 carats. They will be contained in a solid silver case bearing the union coat of arms in colored enamel.

In all, the union's gifts to the British Royal Family, to be presented in Capetown early next week, total 540 matched diamonds.

Farewell Service For Young Couple

Tomorrow will be the last opportunity for friends in this area to hear the Rev. and Mrs. Williams in sermon and song. This young couple leave the city next week for preaching points in the United States. Friends are urged to attend the farewell services for these two servants of the Lord.

Last Sunday evening the Rev. J. D. Carlson, pastor evangelist of the Beulah Tabernacle, gave the first chapter of his life story. Hundreds gathered in the downtown Dreamland theatre to hear the testimony of this young man. Tomorrow night Mr. Carlson will be giving the concluding chapter of his life story. He will tell of his first attempts at preaching, his first sermon, and the trials and triumphs of the Gospel work. These experiences have never before been told in public and so a special invitation is extended to everyone to attend this meeting.

JERRY SPADY, the boy soloist will be bringing special messages in song in both the morning and evening services.

SPORTS

HAROLD DEAN, Sports Editor

THE REPORT THAT BRANDON ELKS had shelled out $36,000 to finance the club which recently was ousted by Moose Jaw Canucks, has caused somewhat of a stir, particularly in Manitoba hockey circles. It also has resulted in the junior situation in general receiving considerable attention at the hands of sport writers across Canada.

There seems little doubt officials of the Brandon club spent real money (let's hope they got full value) and made it exceedingly tough for other junior organizations in the west last fall. But if they say the figure was $36,000 they must be kidding, or trying to frighten somebody—that is unless rink rentals and percentages were included.

It doesn't take any wizard at mathematics to compute the cost of say 15 players at an average of $200 per month—and that's probably above the mark. The stick bill could be around $1,000 and equipment say $2,000. Then toss in another two grand for incidentals and that still leaves $13,000 unexplained.

Andy Explains Some Things

ANDY LYTLE OF THE TORONTO STAR devoted a column to the controversy the other day. Andy, of course, enjoys hurling the odd harpoon at either or both NHL and CAHA, but his observations particularly with reference to Toronto St. Michael's juniors certainly are worth repeating.

"Most junior clubs capable of carrying the hockey mail today," says Andy, "are sponsored, which means financed by professional clubs... the infiltration of NHL clubs for example, into junior ranks began some years ago and has grown steadily ever since."

"At least three of such clubs are paying tuition fees, if nothing more, to St. Mike's players. Leafs support Oshawa juniors, Detroit finances Galt. Les Canadiens back several junior and at least one senior club..."

St. Michael's Coach Unpaid

YET, IT MAY STARTLE A LARGE number of persons, as it did me to be assured by Father Mallon of St. Mike's, that the club's annual operating overhead is not much in excess of $6,000. That's thirty thousand less than the overhead at Brandon. It's probably some thousands, too, below what it costs Detroit at Galt, or Canadiens in Montreal.

Andy then goes on to explain the secret—and believe it or not, the coach gets nary a dime.

"... though the college does offer some athletic scholarship, it does not pay its capable coach a thin dinero... hockey is profitable to the institution and its officers say so quite frankly."

"But accrued profits maintain the school's whole athletic program, and one notable example of the school spirit and what it means to at least one of the alumni, is offered by Coach Primeau, who is glad, he says to repay a debt he feels he owes to St. Mike's for giving him the chance, when he was a boy, to play hockey..."

New Hockey Circuit for BC

CLARENCE MOHER HAS JUST RETURNED to his home in the city after spending the winter season at Vernon, B.C., where he was in charge of the ambitious hockey program launched last fall by the Okanagan club.

The previous year Clarence had just one club to worry about—the New Westminster Royals of the Pacific Coast League and he was credited with having done an excellent job of coaching. This season he had nine teams to supervise and it actually meant a minimum of 25 hours on the ice every week, but he never missed a workout.

Moher says Vernon is the red hot hockey spot it is claimed to be and the attendance records of the recent intermediate playoffs bear him out. According to Clarence another B.C. hockey circuit is in the making. Kamloops expecting to complete a rink this year and Kelowna also plans to build. Penticton already has raised a considerable portion of the funds required to make a start.

Rookies, Mound Vets Share Diamond Honors

NEW YORK, April 19 —(AP)— Rookie sluggers and veteran pitchers shared the spotlight yesterday as home runs figured prominently in a number of games.

Earl Torgeson, Boston Braves youngster who was rumored on his way to the bench because of his disappointing showing at first base, clouted three for three, including a four-bagger while venerable Reliever St. Johnson pitched seven innings of scoreless ball to give the Braves a 10-7 victory over Philadelphia Phils.

CO-OWNER Bing Crosby watched his Pittsburgh Pirates slam five homers, including two by young outfielder Wally Westlake, to open their home season with a 12-11 win over Cincinnati Reds, featured by Ernie Bonham's sharp spot pitching that doused a ninth-inning Red rally.

Negro Jackie Robinson's first major league homer lightened the defeat of Brooklyn's Dodgers' first defeat of the season as New York Giants pounded out a 10-4 win behind southpaw Dave Koso's seven-hit pitching. Harry The Cat Brechee pitched St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-1 win over Chicago Cubs in the other National League contest.

In the American League Chicago White Sox won their second straight shutout, a 1-0 triumph over St. Louis Browns behind Johnny Rigney's five-hit hurling—his first real test since a broken operation last January. Rigney gave way to Frank Pappish who pitched a hitless ninth-inning.

IT WAS AN OLD story in Philadelphia as the champion Boston Red Sox, aided by homers from the bats of Ted Williams and Bobby Doerr, won a 9-3 victory over the Athletics for Dave (Doc) Ferriss. Allie Reynolds, newly-purchased from Cleveland Indians, only needed Charlie Keller's three-run homer to pitch New York Yankees to a 7-0 victory over Washington Senators. Meanwhile home runs by Roy Cullenbine and Pat Mullin broke up a pitching duel between Detroit's Virgil Trucks and Cleveland's Red Embree, giving the Tigers a 2-0 margin.

The International League's only real test since a broken operation last January, Rigney gave way to Frank Pappish who pitched a hitless ninth-inning.

Finalists Named In Empress Golf

VICTORIA, B.C., April 19 —E. N. Eisenhower, of Tacoma, Wash., brother of General "Ike" Eisenhower, yesterday entered the finals of the men's handicap championship of the 17th annual Empress golf tournament by defeating Vernon E. Fowler of Astoria, Oregon, 5 and 4.

Today at the Oak Bay links he will meet Brian Hopkins of Vancouver, B.C., who won his semifinal yesterday after a hard battle from F. L. Stanton, of Spokane, Wash. They will play off for the Sir Edward Beatty trophy.

The men's amateur open ended yesterday with a victory for Vic Painter, of Victoria, who defeated Oscar Sund, of Seattle, 6 and 5. In a trap bordering the 13th green, Painter used a putter to get himself on the green and then sank his ball to take the hole and the match.

Results of the men's consolation flights were as follows:
W. H. Sears, Toronto, defeated A. Jeffrey, Vancouver, 2 and 2.
S. Rubenstein, Seattle, defeated H. G. Love, Calgary, 4 and 3.
H. Goertz, Edmonton, defeated J. R. Williams, Victoria, 2 and 1.

Shotton Takes Over As Brooklyn Manager

NEW YORK, April 19 —(AP)— Burt Shotton, a grey-eyed, grey-haired, mild-talking gentleman of 60 years, appeared somewhat diffidently on Brooklyn Dodgers' bench just before yesterday's game at the Polo Grounds and officially took over the job that was shot out from under Leo Durocher 10 days ago.

About four hours previously he had been notified by President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers that he was the team's new manager. He had come up overnight from his home in Bartow, Fla., at Rickey's telegraphic request, but said he had no idea he was going to be offered a job as Durocher's successor.

"I HAVEN'T SIGNED a contract or even talked about one yet," he said. "I've worked for Mr. Rickey off and on for many years and I never had a contract."
The circumstances of Shotton's appointment led to the conclusion among baseball observers that he had agreed to fill in for Durocher for the season and that his choice by Rickey meant that Leo would be back at the old stand a year from now.

Shotton, who survived a five-year span as manager of Philadelphia Phillies, scouted for the Dodgers last year after going into semi-retirement because of poor health.

AS HE TURNED down a job as a Brooklyn coach because of his health, it was not believed Shotton would have agreed to serve more than one season.

"I won't put on a uniform," he told newspaper men. "I took it off for the last time several years ago. Anyway, why should I with the bunch of coaches I've got on this club?"
Although he was officially in charge of the flock yesterday, Shotton made no attempt to direct play. He just sat on the bench among his new players and watched proceeding through his gold-rimmed glasses.

"WHENEVER I THINK I know something about the club and think I can help, I'll start to work," he promised. "Until then I'll just watch."

Although Shotton doesn't know his new gang, he will soon run to a set of young men with whom he is acquainted all too well. He managed the Columbus Club in the American Association from 1936 through '41, when most of the leading lights of the present National League championship St. Louis Cardinals were there.

As manager, he piloted Syracuse (N.Y.) in the International League in 1926 and '27, and after his term with the Phillies, returned to the Cardinals organization to manage the Rochester International League club for part of 1935 and Columbus from 1936 through '41. Late in 1941, he was named a coach of Cleveland Indians.

Calgary's Cowboys "Ride" Into Final

Stampeders Stem Winnipeg Rally To Triumph 4-3

WINNIPEG, April 19 (CP)—Calgary Stampeders, calling on all their power and experience, finally conquered Winnipeg Flyers 4-3 here Friday night in the deciding game to their best-of-five series for the Western senior hockey championship and a berth in the Allan Cup final.

Five thousand roaring fans saw the Canadian champions split a pair of goals in the first period with the underdog Flyers and then roll to a 4-1 lead in the second as they temporarily took command of the game. The best Flyers could do thereafter was to bang in two more goals and hold the Stampeders scoreless.

DUNC GRANT led the Alberta team to its second consecutive Western title, scoring two goals and assisting in another, as he skated like a fiend most of the night. Tony Desmarais and Bob Brownridge bagged the other Calgary counters.

Don Raleigh, Flyers centre, kept pace with Grant for individual scoring honors with two goals and an assist and the third Winnipeg tally went to Bud Craig.

It was a bitterly-fought battle in which the powerful and veteran Calgary team finally overcame the fighting spirit and sheer speed of the Flyers.

LIGHTLY CONSIDERED as a threat to the reign of the Stampeders—still less regarded when they dropped their first game at Calgary 10-3—Flyers came back to win 2-1 before moving to Winnipeg, took the third game 3-2 and then bowed 7-3 in the fourth.

Midnight struck for the Cinderella Flyers when Brownridge, Grant and Desmarais fired three goals within six minutes of the second period. Flyers, unwilling to accept defeat, threw everything they had into a helter-skelter wild-skating assault on Stampeders goal. Russ Dettell which netted them two goals before the period ended and might have gained them three times as many.

AS THE PERIOD ended the crowd already on its feet for minutes, gave them a thunderous ovation but from there on the game was scoreless. Try as they might—and at times they did everything else but score—the Winnipeg team just couldn't come up with the tying counter.

Only two penalties, both of them to Winnipeg players, were handed out during the game. Both came in the first period and Flyers were short one man when Calgary tied the score at 1-1.

Stampeders will return to Calgary before heading east to defend the Allan Cup against the winners of the Montreal Royals-Hamilton Tigers series for eastern championship.

All-Time Ring Great, Benny Leonard Dies

NEW YORK, April 19 —(AP)— Benny Leonard, one of the ring's all-time greats, died last night in the ring at the little St. Nicholas Arena, the fight club where he first started to fame. Officially as referee, Leonard collapsed after two minutes of the first round between Mario Ramon, Los Angeles, and Bobby Williams, New York.

"He just toppled over, as though he had been knocked out," said George Christensen, of the New York Athletic Commission, who was in charge of the show.

"I IMMEDIATELY" stopped the bout and called Dr. Nardiello (Dr. Vincent Nardiello, commission physician). He ordered a stretcher and had Leonard carried to a dressing room.

Nardiello later pronounced Leonard dead at 11:05 p.m. EST of a cerebral hemorrhage.

A crowd of 3,500, which had witnessed Leonard's handling of the main go between Eddie Giosa of Philadelphia and Julio Jimenez, Mexico City, apparently was unaware of Leonard's death.

LEONARD WAS the former lightweight boxing champion.

Leonard, a veteran of both world wars, was 31. He is survived, in addition to his widow, by his father, two brothers, Willie and Joe, and a sister.

Leonard, who earned a fortune in the ring, but later lost it through unfortunate investments, was the central figure in many ring stories told with gusto at sports banquets.

One of these was his first title bout with Philadelphia's Lew Tendler at Jersey City in July, 1922, where 56,638 contributed to a gross gate of $367,862.

TENDLER, a feared southpaw at the time, staggered Leonard in the eighth. Benny always claimed that he was out on his feet, but "talked Tendler out of the title."

"I fooled him by saying 'come on and fight. That punch didn't hurt me a bit,'" Leonard said later.

Leonard also poked fun at his series of fights with Johnny Dundee. "I fought Johnny so often I learned to speak Italian," Benny was fond of saying.

LEONARD WON the title in 1917 and held it until he retired undefeated in 1925. He made a comeback as a welterweight and fought for the last time in 1932. He was knocked out by Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver, B. C.

He entered the U. S. Maritime service in 1942 as a lieutenant and was assigned to serve as physical welfare director. He was promoted to lieutenant-commander in 1944.

Leonard, whose real name was Benjamin Leiner, was born in New York April 7, 1896. He started fighting in neighborhood clubs when he was 16. Six years later, on May 28, 1917, he knocked out Freddie Welsh in New York to gain the lightweight title.

FOR THE NEXT eight years, he fought all of the best lightweights of the day, including Lew Tendler, Rocky Kansas, Johnny Dundee, Pat Moran and others. He retired undefeated in 1925.

Benny's greatest fights were against Tendler, with whom he drew the biggest gates ever attracted by lightweights up until that time.

Woodcock Out Least Six Months

LEEDS, England, April 19.—AP.—The broken jaw received by Bruce Woodcock in losing to Joe

Baker of Kilmarnock, Pa., in their London fight Friday night will keep the British heavyweight champion out of the ring at least six months, his physicians predicted yesterday.

Baker scored a seventh round technical knockout over the Briton after flooring him several times.

Mazurenko Meets Wilf Desjardins

Wilf Desjardins of Winnipeg who has been doing most of his fighting in Seattle and Vancouver, will take on Edmonton's George Mazurenko, Alberta light weight champion, in the semi-final of Wednesday night's boxing show at the Alberta Avenue sports pavilion.

Mazurenko was scheduled to meet Billy Green of Calgary but Green was unable to fight. Jack Berry and Johnny Kos will headline the program. Other bouts will pit Dusty Rhodes, Edmonton, against Lindsay Thunell, Viking, and Danny Roberts, Vancouver, against Gordon Gray, Viking, or Red Fillion, Edmonton. One more bout is being arranged.

Tricky Dan Dusek To Wrestle Here

Danny Dusek, member of the noted wrestling family, will unload some of his big bag of grappling tricks in the Alberta Avenue Sports pavilion next Thursday night.

Dusek acquired most of his skill in the mat-art through wrestling with his three brothers who also made a mark in cauliflower row a few years back.

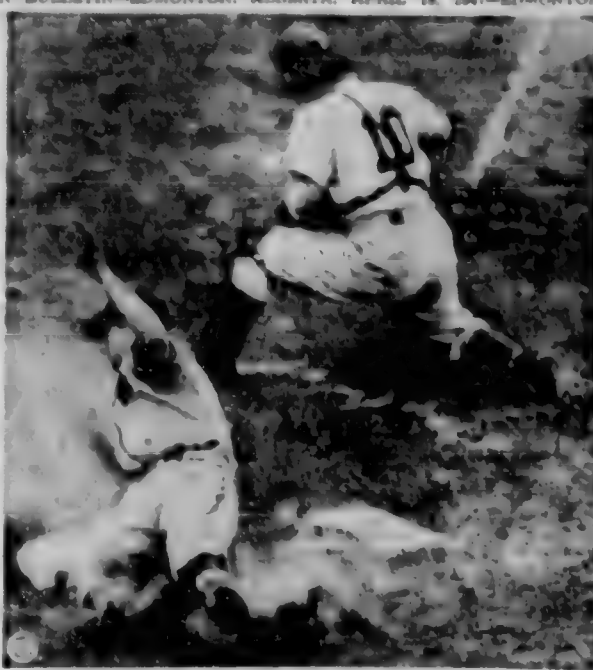

ALTHOUGH his opponent has not yet been named, the Dusek bout will probably share the spotlight with the Al "Lord" Mills-Ian Etchinson headliner.

Mills has won his last two engagements here, while Etchinson, the Texas youngster, gave a good account of himself this week when he defeated King Kong Clayton.

BRAVE TRY IN BROOKLYN: But Brooklyn broke it up to win its opener at Ebbets Field. For a while it looked like the Brave's try might be good. In the sixth inning Earl Torgerson, the club's prize rookie, slid safely home (above). Dodger catcher, Bruce Edwards is the man looking for the ball. Yesterday, Torgerson batted three for three as the Braves defeated Philadelphia.

Could End Series Tonight

Toronto Leafs Look To Reserve Strength

TORONTO, April 19.—(CP)—Just one game from the Stanley Cup, Toronto Maple Leafs last night looked to reserve strength from their Pittsburgh American Hockey League farm to carry them to victory over Montreal Canadiens tonight in the sixth game of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup final, which they now lead 3-2.

The Toronto team announced yesterday that defenceman Wally Stanowski dislocated his shoulder in Thursday night's game at Montreal and will not be available again this season. Syl Apps, captain and centre, suffered a badly bruised heel—he walks with a pronounced limp but will play. Defenceman Garth Boesch has a bad throat but penicillin treatments are expected to bring him around. AT FIRST, THE Leafs planned to call on Elwyn Morris of the Pittsburgh team to replace Stanowski and also to drop defenceman Bill Bariko for forward Gus Bodnar, who also spent part of the season with Pittsburgh.

But Morris, with an injured arm, and Bodnar, with a shoulder injury, have to take medical examinations before it is known whether they can play. If they can't, the choice will be among four other Pittsburgh players—defencemen Ernie Dickens and forwards Ted Sloan, Pete Langelle and Jackie Hamilton.

WORD FROM MONTREAL is that there are no fresh injuries among the Canadiens, who bounced back into the contention with their 3-1 triumph over the Leafs in Montreal Thursday night after dropping three in a row.

22 Horses Entered In Wood Memorial

NEW YORK, April 19.—(AP)—A total of 22 three-year-olds, headed by William Hells Kentucky Derby winter book favorite, Cosmic Bomb, was entered yesterday for today's Wood Memorial at Jamaica.

Today's Wood Memorial at Jamaica, forcing the race to be "split" into two 11-horse divisions, each with $40,000 in added money.

Nineteen of the 22 entered in the 1 1/8-mile event in which the three-year-olds are asked to carry the 126-pound derby load for the first time, are candidates for the Louisville classic.

Cosmic Bomb, making his first start of the year, drew the tougher field, with Sonny Whitney's stretch-running Phalaris; Claude Tanner's Colquel OF, Greentree's Blue Border, movie-man Harry Warner's W. L. Bickle and Mrs. John Hertz's Owner's Choice.

All 11 of the horses in the second half of the Wood are derby eligibles. Heading the list are Warner's stepfather, Whitney's Bastogne, Walter Chrysler's Brabancon, and Cornish Knight, owned by E. P. Taylor of Toronto.

Deny Barring Door To Sports Writers

By Fraser MacDougall
Toronto, April 19.—(CP)—The question of who gets into who dressing room and when his star red up a fuss which now ranks a close second to who wins the games in the Stanley Cup struggle between Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens.

The Leafs who held aloof from the question while the Canadiens barred Toronto newspaper men crashed the debate yesterday with a vehement denial of a story that they closed their door Thursday night to Montreal reporters.

THE MONTREAL dispatch said a uniformed usher stood guard at the door and refused to let Montreal writers get by. A Canadian Press representative was in the room before the players arrived and the usher ordered him out. Once he got out the usher refused to let him in again.

Captain Hap Day of the Leafs, a man with a cheery smile but few words, came out with a flat denial that he or anybody else connected with the Leafs had a hand in this door-barring episode.

MAP SAID THE welcome sign is on the Toronto dressing room door for any and all hockey writers. They can come in after the game talk to anybody and write as they please.

The dressing room fust started last Saturday in Toronto when the Canadiens closed their door on Toronto sports writers on the trail of a bit of gossip. This had not extended to Montreal writers.

It was a bit of a wrench to general manager Frank Selke of the Canadiens to enforce his ban. Many of the Toronto men he turned back were close personal friends.

Three Franchises For Junior Rugby

City Junior Rugby Football League at a meeting held Friday night re-invoked the 1941 league constitution, which provided for three franchises—EAC, South Side and Maple Leaf.

A further meeting has been called for April 23 and organizations wishing to enter teams will be required to make representations at that meeting.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD the Navy is a likely entrant this year.

There also was considerable discussion at the meeting as to the most feasible methods for assisting high schools in their proposed 12-man football setup. Steps are being taken with a view to providing competent coaches for school football.

WINDSOR, Ont., April 19.—(CP)—A well-travelled, star-studded Assumption College team, described by coach Stanley "Red" Nantis as the best he's ever handled, again is eastern Canada's standard-bearer in the Dominion basketball final.

Nantis Purple Raiders, who last three straight to Victoria Dominions in a title bid here last spring will meet Vancouver Maroons in a best-of-five series in Vancouver starting Wednesday.

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

Already the pattern of things musical is changing. At least one well-known organization will present a different appearance when it gives its next public concert. W. J. Jones has resigned as conductor of the St. David's Welsh Male Voice Choir, and will be succeeded by Jack Williams. Mr. Jones has served on the podium for six years and relinquished the post, with regret, and due solely to the heavy demands on his time. Prior to serving as leader, he had been a singing member of the organization. He led the JOHN OLIVER group through a difficult period. During the early days of the war, the choir suffered a steady decline in membership, as a result of the priorities in service, of other lines of endeavor. At the commencement of the 1941 season, he agreed to take over the baton. He plunged into his task with enthusiasm, and due to his unremitting efforts, and the tireless assistance from his lieutenants, built up membership. Services of the choir became increasingly popular.

From September 1941 until May 1946 no fewer than 82 programs were given at military camps in the district, as well as in city churches and before many organizations. Numerous expressions of regret were heard from choir members at his unavoidable resignation.

MR. WILLIAMS will be stopping into a field which he is thoroughly conversant. For the last six years he has been choirmaster at Knox United Church, where the progressive increase in membership and standard of singing, has been a matter of widespread recognition. Also, he organized a teenage girls choir. Mr. Williams also is one of the most popular bass soloists in this city.

The choir proposes to carry on its activities and will enter the provincial musical festival in May. Former and prospective members will be welcome any Friday evening at the Civic Art Centre, 102 avenue, opposite the city Market.

Reward beyond that which they expected came to the three finalists in the Birks Musical Awards contest, which concluded 25 weeks on the air over CJCA with a concert at the Garneau theatre last Sunday. The three finalists, in order, Doreen Stanton, pianist; Ruth Gillette, soprano; and Roy Gilley, baritone, will appear in a series of Sunday afternoon programs over CJCA and under the Birks aegis. Two of the three finalists will take part in each program, the first of which will be given tomorrow at 4:45 p.m. Miss Stanton and Mr. Gilley will be the artists. All three finalists created favorable impressions and their ability to "carry" a program will be watched, and listened to with interest.

Students of Eastwood High School will appear in a concert of the school gymnasium at 8:15 p.m. Friday, April 23, under the direction of A. Davidson, who is in charge of musical tuition in the school.

THE SCHOOL GLEE club will sing My Own Canadian Home, McLaughlin; Stout-Hearted Men, Romberg; Where'er You Walk, Handel; Lullaby, Bridge; Little David, Play on Yo' Harp, Negro spiritual; The Alphabet, Mozart; La Paloma, Yradier; El Mantón de Manda, Mexican folk song; Indian Love Call, Friml; Rising of the Lark, Welsh folk song; Robin Adair, Scottish folk song and Grant Us Peace.

The school orchestra will play Friend O' Mine, Sanderson; Danny Boy, arranged Weatherley; Largo, Handel, with flute solo by Donald Hiron: First Waltz, Schubert; Minuet, Bach; Andante, Beethoven. OTHER ITEMS on the program will be: On the Board Walk by Ora Frederickson and Joan Farley; Ukrainian dance, Mike Graf; and a Modest Krilowski; On Wings of Song, Mendelssohn; One Fleeting Hour, Lee; Katherine Lammie, soprano; In a Monastery Garden, Ketebeby and Stelliene and Rigaudon, Francoeur-Kreiser, by Luby Yusupchuk, violinist; piano accordion solos, Anniversary Song, Ivanovici and Besame March, Velazquez, Ronald Howard; piano duet, Marche Militaire, Schubert and King of the Forest, by Mary Michalluk and Nora Moffat; recitations, The Fair Sea Islands, On Cats and Dogs, by Leslie Cooper.

HMCS Nonsuch, Edmonton's reserve division of the Royal Canadian Navy, has formed a band, which will make its debut at a concert to be given at 9 p.m. on Sunday, April 27 at the drill hall of Nonsuch. The bandmaster, is Lt. (SB) Douglas R. Jones, and the acting bandmaster is T. V. Newlove, conductor of the Edmonton Schoolboys Band, who will direct the initial concert.

THERE ARE many former servicemen in the band, which is the first, except a bugle band, that Nonsuch has had. Lt. Jones recently returned from a band staff course at Halifax.

The program will be as follows: On the Quarter Deck, Alford; overture to "Zampa", Herold; Rhythms of Rio, Bennett, Yankee Rhythm, Lake; Toy Trumpet, Scott; accordion solo by Bert Ward; Lady of Spain, Evans; Cypress Silhouettes, Bennett; Three Blind Mice, Wright; Russian Sailors Dance, Gilere; Boogie Woogie Band, Bennett; At the Kremlin Ball, Hill; March, The Middy, Alford.

Members of the band are: Cornets: Fred Peters, Bert Ward, William Richardson, Leroy Hill, William Laseil, alto; Grant Cummins, James Brown, Merrill Traub; bass, Walter Baile, James Haire, John Slupsky; trombones, Charles Brown, S. A. Jamieson, William Wiles, Clark Bell, Stanley Merkle, Clarinets, Ted Hole, George Marks, Phillip Allen, Frank Mathew, Rudolph Melnychuk, Norman Ostlund, Denis Kuchinski, Thomas Mundy, Theodore Schmitz, Steve Mendryk, Peter Melnychuk.

E-flat clarinet, Walter Purches; flute and piccolo, Sandy Petrovich; baritone, Alan Earle, John Crook; euphonium, Francis O'Hara; alto saxophone, Bruce Mathew; tenor saxophone, Robert Hunt; drums, James Raicos, Alec Mair and Gordon McLean.

ON MONDAY, May 12, the Edmonton Youth Chorus will give its initial concert, at McDougall United Church. Although this organization took part in the Rotary Club's Christmas carol festival last Christmas, the May 12 concert, will be its first full-length program. Agnes Buckles, a member of the Norwood public school teaching staff is the founder and conductor of the group. There are 100 members of the chorus. The program will be entirely religious and will include the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "The Messiah." Soloists will be Bunny Hosford, Ruth Zielke and Margaret Zielke.

Good news for music students throughout Alberta is contained in details of a large number of awards being made available to students through the Western Board of Music. "There has been a remarkable response by donors," said Prof. John Reymes-King, head of the music department, University of Alberta. (There are available 23 scholarships, 33 bursaries and 22 prizes for Albertans this year. University gold and silver medals also are offered in every subject in each grade.)

Information on other bursaries of $25 and $50 will be available later. Information from the university, which administers the examinations in the province, is that music students may obtain full details from their teachers, or if details have not reached the teacher, from high school principals or directly from the fine arts department of the university.

As an indication of the support being given students by donors, through the Western Board, below is a list of scholarships, prizes, awards tenable at conservatories and bursaries:

Would Allow Vets Into Own Homes

OTTAWA, April 19—(CP)—Donald Fleming, (CP—Toronto) urged last night in the Commons that veterans who have purchased homes since their return from overseas be given the opportunity of obtaining occupancy of the dwellings.

He spoke as the house, while studying the government's main control bill, turned to an order-in-council dealing with leasehold regulations.

He presented an amendment which would allow veterans who purchased homes in good faith to obtain occupancy in the same way as a landlord was allowed to take over a house he needed for himself or his family.

He was also prepared to move an amendment that would provide hereafter shared accommodation would not be subject to eviction provisions. He suggested that such a move would make more accommodation available. Many people now did not want to rent rooms or available surplus accommodation because of the fear they would be unable to evict an undesirable tenant.

Points for Parents

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Babies Are Greatest Of Home Wreckers

The greatest home-wreckers in the world are not the handsome and sophisticated wolves, who know all the ways and wiles of winning hearts and seducing husbands and wives from their lawful allegiances. They are the angel-faced creatures in the bassinet who look as innocent as if they had just dropped from Heaven on a mission of love and peace and to draw parents closer together.

But he not deceived by this guileless pose. So, far from being ambassadors of good will, babies, and especially first babies are trouble-makers who inspire more jealousy and start more family brawls and cause more heartaches than the deepest-dyed villain ever conceived.

You don't believe it? You think it is sacrilegious for anyone to attribute such unworthy motives to that poor little mite of humanity, with his dead-pan countenance on which no evil thought was ever written, and who can't even speak to defend himself? That's what you think, and the argument seems good.

BUT FACE the fact that this seemingly innocuous infant is so fussy that he starts in on his nefarious work even before he is born. Haven't you known bitter family feuds to rage over naming the baby, even before they knew whether the youngster would be a boy or a girl? Each of the prospective grandparents felt that he had priority in selecting the kid's moniker, and fought over the cradle like dogs over a bone.

Then no one will deny that if the real co-respondent in thousands of divorce cases were named, it would be junior not Lothario. He is the wolf whose dish is young mothers who get so absorbed in the baby that they forget that they ever had husbands. Up to the time of Junior's arrival all was love-dovey with Mr. and Mrs. Newlywed. He was the head of the house; the one for whom Mrs. Newlywed dolled herself up, for whom she cooked savory dishes, and on whose words she hung entranced. But the first wall of the baby knocked father out of the ring. Never again was he to have any authority in the home. Never again would he be a person of importance. He would merely be Junior's Papa, who would spend the balance of his life toiling to buy Junior and his successors fine clothes, bicycles and cars, and send them off to expensive schools.

AFTER HAVING put Papa's nose out of joint, you would think the baby would be satisfied to take it easy for a while and just let things rook along, but not so. Stirring up jealousy in the family circle is his speciality, and he is never satisfied until he has gotten Mother and Father quarrelling over which one he loves the better, and getting them green-eyed if he shows any preference.

Half of the in-law trouble is fomented by the young villain who sets Grandma and his young mother at each other's throat just for the heck of the thing. For well he knows that there is going to be trouble when he puts in a blimful expression when Grandma sings him to sleep.

And who starts most of the fights between husbands and wives? You said it. It is the babies. Mother pins her faith in one brand of baby food. Father to another. Mother believes in letting himself up, for whom she cooked savory dishes, and on whose words she hung entranced. But the first wall of the baby knocked father out of the ring. Never again was he to have any authority in the home. Never again would he be a person of importance. He would merely be Junior's Papa, who would spend the balance of his life toiling to buy Junior and his successors fine clothes, bicycles and cars, and send them off to expensive schools.

At that, you are far better off to remain in your room. It's fatal to go out into the streets of a strange city. Nothing can produce more of a sense of not belonging to this world.

Every city is essentially the same when it's seen from the detached viewpoint of the stranger. There seems to be an almost hysterical urgency in the people and traffic madly rushing this way and that with purpose and determination, each person grimly intent on his children rear themselves. Father thinks they should be disciplined. There isn't a thing from how to put on a diaper to what college to send them to that they don't scrap over. For even a moron child is smart enough to find out before he cuts his first teeth how to play Mother against Father, and win out.

A baby in the house is a well-spring of joy, says the old proverb, True. But there is a load of trouble at the bottom of it. Babies are the one thing that we can neither do with, nor without.

Not Belonging

own tiny destiny, each apparently knowing exactly where he's going and for what reason. The stranger, drifting aimlessly, looking blankly into shop windows (in Los Angeles I caught myself staring vacantly for five minutes into a window full of artificial limbs and trusses) finds his own lack of purpose, dramatized by all this organized activity.

Loneliness

A great loneliness settles over him. He is apt to turn suddenly in his tracks and stride off vigorously to look like a man late for an important conference, possibly something to do with the atom bomb.

The scenery itself, particularly if you travel by air as I did, means next to nothing after the first hour aloft. And after three or four days in the air you smother a yawn at the sight of a famous volcano or the first glimpse of a new ocean. You limit yourself exclusively to contemplating the trim figure of the stewardess.

Fact is that there's a lot more enjoyment and excitement in a leisurely Sunday drive with the family than in circling half the world alone.

But you have to circle half the world to know it.

In Estes Park, Colorado, beavers built a dam more than 1,000 feet long.

Montreal, Ottawa is to be the locale of Royal Canadian Dental Corps training.

DURING THEIR phase of practical training, which in most cases will average 16 weeks, officer cadets will be paid at the current rate of a second-lieutenant in the active force, and will receive the status of officers during the period of training.

According to Canadian Army plans to build a highly trained and specialized army where educational standards must be the highest possible, the new programme of officer training requires that at least two years of COTC training must be completed before commissions can be granted.

Upon successful completion of their COTC course, student candidates may either be commissioned as captains in the Reserve Force or lieutenants in the Active Force.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 19.—AP.—When Ferdinand H. Thommesen died his body was put to rest in his $75,000 mausoleum, but relatives learned yesterday at surrogate court that he left an estate of only $125—the sale price of a 1937 model automobile. "May I talk to you about CANCER?"

THE FIGHT MUST GO ON!

CANCER is the No. 2 Killer in Canada today. It claims the lives of more women between 35 and 55 than any other disease. In 1947, more than 7,000 women... many desperately needed to care for their families... will die of cancer.

Cancer respects neither age nor sex!

More than 14,000 men, women and children will die of cancer during 1947. Unless something is done about cancer, 1,500,000 Canadians now living will die of it. This means that one in every eight of us faces ultimate death from cancer.

SOMETHING CAN BE DONE ABOUT IT

One in three may be saved. Yes, many victims could be saved by early recognition of the symptoms, and by early and proper treatment. Lend your vigorous support to the Canadian Cancer Society in its fight to overcome cancer in three ways:

1. To spread the knowledge that cancer is often curable if correctly diagnosed in its early stages.
2. To provide the most modern facilities for the care and treatment of present cancer sufferers.
3. To maintain a comprehensive, nationwide cancer research program to discover the basic cause and the cure of cancer.

In the meantime protect yourself against cancer. Be sure that you and every member of your family sees a doctor regularly.

Presidents of Student Councils Active in All High Schools

Presidents of Student Councils of Edmonton high schools are busy officers of their organizations. Besides keeping up their studies, these officers plan graduating dances, award crests to championship teams, organize ball teams, produce school plays, handle milk bars, work on the school papers, sell tickets for various events, pose for group pictures and these are only a few of the countless activities which take up the spare time of the presidents.

The presidents and their schools are as follows: Miss Helen MacRae, St. Mary's; James McIntyre, Westglen; Miss Barbara Allen, McDougall; Ross Curry, Strathcona; Miss Myriam Dobson, Victoria; James Wallace, Eastwood; Kevin McInnelly, St. Joseph's; Alan Lasserre, University and James Findlay, Garneau.

JUMPING FROM treasurer of St. Mary's Student Council in Grade 11 to president in Grade 12 is a feat not many girls accomplish. Helen MacRae did it, however, and outside of school she is just as energetic.

Last year she was secretary-treasurer of St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Church Youth Organization and this year was re-elected to that office. She also has been a member of the Edmon-Teen's Club for the last three years. She likes to swim, dance, cycle, collect records and read. Her ambition is to be a school teacher and she intends to take her training in Alberta.

JIM MCINTYRE, president of Westglen High School Student's Council started his round of activities in Grade 11 when he was in the Boys Hi-Y and Ski club.

In his first year of Grade 12, "Mac" again took part in these two activities. He also accepted the responsibilities of a hard-working editor for the Westglen year book.

This year he was elected president of his school's council, a job in itself.

Outside of school, he is a member of the Edmonton Ski Club. Much of his time is filled with hunting, fishing, sailing and trap-shooting. While he is allergic to cabbage in any shape or form, there appears to be a soft spot in his heart for the "Sons of the Pioneer" and Artie Shaw. Next year he hopes to study medicine at the University of Alberta.

WHEN BARBARA Allen was at Eastwood in Grade 10, she was a room representative on the Students' Council. Resides taking part in the school's Learn-to-Dance Club, she worked on the school paper, the Gazette.

In Grade 11, she changed to attend McDougall High School, where she was again in the dance club.

This year, although "Barb" was elected president of Commercial High Students' Council, she still finds time for her outside activities. Among these are Quads Quo and the Edmon-Teen's Clubs, both of which she has been in for two years. Regarding the latter, she has been on the Central branch executive of the Teen Club for two terms of office, in charge of the house committee. When each Teen Club branch was asked to send a beauty queen to the Provincial Teen Club conference in Calgary, Barb was chosen to represent Central branch.

Except for a trip to Jasper this summer, Barbara's future plans are uncertain. She would like to be an office receptionist later on, but for the present she will be content to pass her June departmental examinations.

HIGH SCHOOL days mean more to Ross Curry than just reading, writing and arithmetic. For instance, in first year at Strathcona High School, Ross played house league hockey and baseball.

In his second year, he was on the junior rugby team, played hockey, baseball and was in the badminton and drama clubs.

This year, besides badminton, dramatics, hockey and curling, he worked on the staff of the year book. Being president of the Students' Council did not even slow him down because outside school Ross was an active member of the air cadets, Edmonton Rifle Association, YMCA and Edmon-Teen's Club. He was also president of the Junior McKernan Lake District Association.

He is at present uncertain of his ambition but is considering taking law at the University of Alberta.

PRESIDENT of Victoria High School Students' Council, Miss Myriam Dobson is one of Edmonton's busiest teen-agers. Her high school activities have been varied. Grade 10 included house league basketball, dramatics and badminton. Grade 11 brought a solo part in Vic Varieties and work on the school paper Argosy.

In Grade 12, she was publicity manager for the Drama Club, worked on the staff of the Argosy, handled the milk bar, was on the

The Women's Auxiliary of the Army and Navy Veterans presented Mrs. Brown with a bouquet of spring flowers, and telegrams and letters of congratulations were read.

Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. E. Keene of Sutherland, Sask., and Mrs. C. London, J. London, R. L. Edginton all of Lamont.

National Exhibition In Toronto in August

TORONTO, April 16.—(CP)—Representatives of 40 national women's organizations will attend a preliminary planning conference Tuesday in connection with the forthcoming Canadian National Exhibition, it was announced Monday.

Kate Aitken, director of women's activities at the CNE, said the women would discuss plans for active participation of Canadian women's groups in the exhibition. The CNE opens in August after a wartime lapse.

Students' Council, on the staff of the year book and was a cheer leader.

In her second year of Grade 12, she was made the second girl president in Vic's history, the first since 1923. A popularity poll voted her the most versatile Grade 12 girl and the ideal Vicite.

Outside of school, Myriam is just as busy. An active member of the Teen Club, she has been secretary of Central branch for two years and handled the checking booth at their weekly dances for that length of time. She has also been production manager of Central's radio show since Christmas. Besides regular Teen Club fashion shows she has modelled for other Hudson's Bay Company shows during the last few years. Vocal work at Teen dances and over the radio takes up a great deal of her time.

This summer, she will visit the United States. In September, she will enroll at a school in New York where she will study photographic modelling.

Forecast Increase House Paint Price

Price of exterior house paint is likely to advance if recommendations of paint distributing companies are accepted by the federal government, delegates attending a meeting of the Edmonton and Calgary Paint Clubs here Friday, revealed.

Now in short supply, the paint distributors say that this is largely due to a recent announcement of Dominion Agricultural Minister James G. Gardiner that flax will likely advance from its present price of $3.25 per bushel to $5. a bushel in August.

Farmers are said to be holding back their flax until the higher price becomes effective.

The paint clubs will press the government for an advancing of

Ex-Resident Dead

VICTORIA, April 19 (CP)—Harrie Cator Pocock, 72, resident of Edmonton for 34 years until he came here in 1940, died Thursday. He was born in Eastbourne, Sussex, Eng. His widow survives.

The date at which the new price for flax will become effective.

They believe such a move will result in greater quantities of exterior paint becoming available.

A price increase for paints will likely result, however.

Bert Mersden of Edmonton was elected the new president of the combined Alberta clubs at the business session Friday in the Edmonton Club. He succeeds Len Beatty.

Fred W. Kemp of Edmonton, is past president of the combined clubs. About 10 members of the Calgary club are attending, including President W. Brigdon of the Calgary club.

Plastic Plant Ruins Yield Grim Harvest

By William C. Barnard

TENAS CITY, Tex., April 19 (AP)—I watched them bring charred bodies from the wreckage of the great plastics plant of the Monsanto Chemical Works yesterday.

SMOKE AND flame herebefore had kept rescuers away from the ruined plastics building. The greater part of the six-story brick structure was a mountain of rubble and twisted steel.

Black, charred pieces of bodies were being brought out on canvas stretchers. Identification of most of them will be impossible.

John A. Rice, a longshoreman from Galveston, said "Two been bringing out pieces all day. I guess they added up to about two people. I found only one whole man and he was burned black. I don't see how anything could be worse than this."

Volunteer workers toiled slowly over the debris. Suddenly one of them signalled some companions nearby. They went over to him and started piling aside bricks, wood and pieces of steel.

THEN THEY called a couple of stretcher-bearers and put what they had found on the stretcher. It was the blackened torso of a man. There was one foot with it. The arms and legs were not found.

Near the destroyed plastics building is the main office building of the chemical works. 200 yards from where the nitrate laden ship, the Grandcamp, blew up Wednesday.

The office building was badly damaged inside and several people were killed in it but the building did not fall. Two men who were in the office building at the time of the explosion were in the area yesterday. They were Charles M. Fields, traffic manager for Monsanto, and Travis McDonald, a buyer for the chemical plant.

Fields, 62, had several cuts on his face and arms, and said he

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

Although I know that many of my readers object to my showing only one hand of 13 cards, the argument over today's hand was so keen that I cannot help passing it on to you. The problem was over West's cue bid of two clubs.

What should East, his partner, do? Bertram Leihar, Jr., treasurer of the American Contract Bridge League and an outstanding expert, claims that nine out of ten experts would bid three diamonds with East's holding. As this seemed like quite a claim to me, I started out to check on it. About half of the experts I consulted said they would bid two diamonds, and had a good strong argument depend on each other

Tanker discharging 850,000 gallons of fuel oil into the 7 million gallon storage tanks at the Port of Vancouver Refinery.

In one year more than 17 million gallons of fuel oil are required as fuel for the furnaces and smelting machines in the Canadian Nickel smelting and refining plants. 100 carloads of diesel oil are needed for the trucks and tractors in the Sudbury district, and 75,000 gallons more in Saskatchewan to produce the power required to mine the sodium sulphate used by the Nickel industry. Seven thousand 45-gallon drums of lubricating oil and grease are also used each year.

Into Canada's petroleum industry go hundreds of tons of Canadian Nickel. Rock bits, tools, drilling equipment are of tough, strong Nickel Steel, pumps, valves, bearings wear longer because of Nickel. In the oil refineries Nickel alloys stand up under intense heat, at sub-zero temperatures and in contact with corrosive acids.

So the Canadian Nickel worker produces the Nickel the petroleum industry needs; the oil worker produces the petroleum products the Canadian Nickel industry needs. Each and every industry in this country creates employment in other industries. No matter how we earn a living, we are all one family, each depending on the others.

SPRING CLEANING

*It is so small that one would think
It could be cleaned in just a wink!
But there's a lot of work to do
When cleaning house within a shoe.
From the book of Whimsy Whims*

THE dreadful day was drawing near. The Teenie Weenie men watched the Lady of Fashion for signs of the annual Teenie Weenie house cleaning. They all hated the confusion that followed in the wake of soap suds and Teenie Weenie women.

They knew the worst when the women collected a thimbleful of soap and cut many pieces from a man's old handkerchief into cleaning clothes about the size of postage stamps. The old shoe in which the little people live was kept spotlessly clean at all times and the Teenie Weenie men couldn't understand the necessity of an annual Spring cleaning.

"It's just one of those funny things about women," the Turk remarked.

"We will be eating our meals on the back porch for two days," complained the Policeman, who is mighty fond of his regular meals. "There's absolutely no need of all this extra cleaning."

"Yes, the house is always clean and I suppose it really doesn't need the extra cleaning," answered the General, "but it gives the women a lot of pleasure, and so I suppose we must put up with it."

"I don't get any pleasure out of beatin' rugs," growled the Duncie, who took out his dislike of the task by generally giving the rugs a beating that easily earned him the title of Teenie Weenie rug-beating champion.

When the women really started cleaning house

THE TEENIE WEENIES
BY WM. DONAHEY.

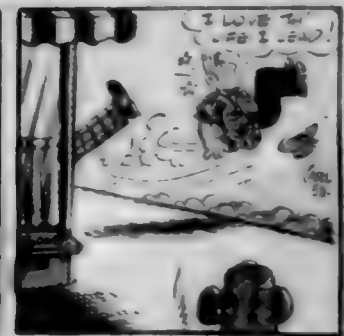

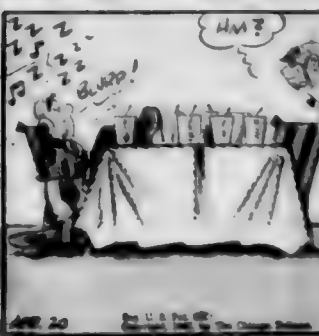

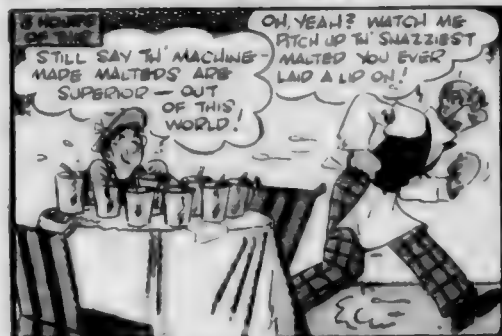

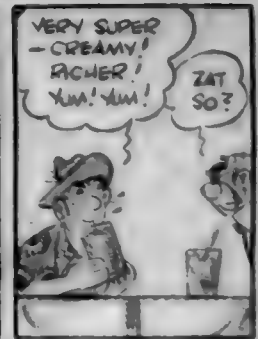

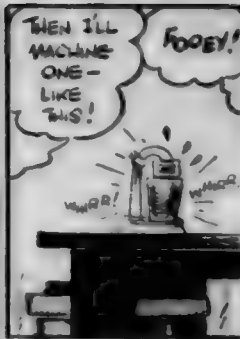

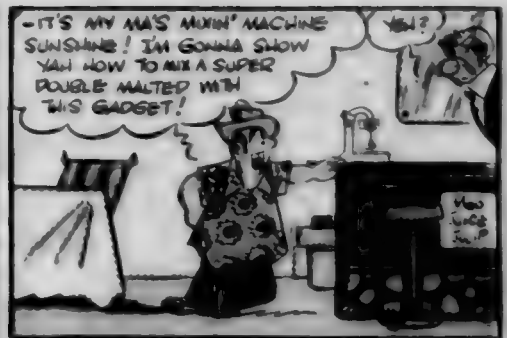

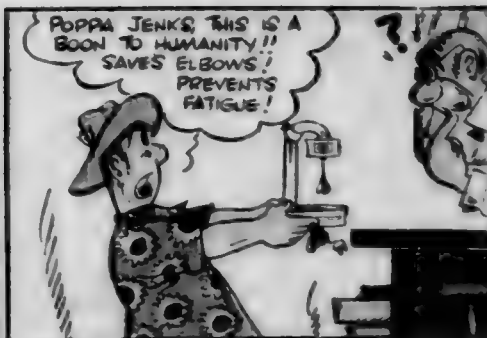

CUT ME OUT.

they kept the men so busy they hadn't even time to growl. Every last Teenie Weenie man was put to work. Even the Policeman had to help and the General took down pictures and helped carry out the heavy pieces of Teenie Weenie furniture. Curtains came down, rugs were hung out for beating, and every mattress and pillow was put out to lie in the sunshine. Skippy, the chipmunk, was hitched to the Teenie Weenie cart and nearly a teacup of water had to be hauled from the creek, for it takes a lot of water to clean a shoehouse. All the walls, the ceiling and floors were thoroughly scrubbed and considerable washing was done outside, too.

"Now," said the Lady of Fashion, as she sank into a Teenie Weenie chair after everything had been cleaned and put back in place, "isn't it lovely to be nice and clean?"

"Yes," answered the Policeman solemnly. "It will be lovely until it has to be done all over again next year."
